DON'T WANT ASPHALT

Property Owners on Two Streets Protest Against Its Use.

They Say It Is Too Expensive-A Petition for Brick on South Meridian Street.

There was a protest before the Board of Works yesterday morning against the use of asphalt on two of the main streets which the board proposes to improve. The committee that protested claimed that representatives of the asphalt companies had circulated the petitions along the streets to be improved, asking that asphalt be used as the material. A committee that protested against the use of asphalt on North Alabama street was composed of Messrs. N. A. Hyde, W. P. Fishback, W. A. Van Buren, Drs. L. L. Todd, R. W. Long, Mr. Ovid Butler and Mr. David Hazzard. Mr. Fishback said the committee represented people owning 6,000 feet on the street. These proprty owners, he said, did not object to improving the street, but they wanted something less expensive than the asphalt as it is now laid. He further insisted that an expert had told him that asphalt could be laid for at least $2 a square yard, although the people were paying a much higher figure than that in Indianapolis. Messrs. M. O'Connor, Frederick Ostermeyer, Henry Schnull and other property owners on South Meridian street objected

Citizens' Street-Car Company Will Help in the Project.

President Wildman, of the Board of Works, asked Manager McLean, of the Citizens' Street-railroad Company, yesterday if the company would transport free of charge to Garfield Park the laborers whom the city wishes to put to work on the new lake next Monday. Mr. McLean promptly told Mr. Wildman the street car company would do as the Board of Works requested A car will leave the corner of Washington and Virginia avenue in the morning and will bring the men back in the evening. The Commercial Club has promised to furnish the city with 100 men each day for the work, the men to be paid with supplies furnished them at the food market. The city will furnish the implements.

Louisville Shipping Its Unemployed. Within the last week there have been several people from Louisville at the Mayor's office applying for transportation to other cities. Yesterday a man with his wife and three children called and asked for transportation to some country town in the State. He said the Mayor of Louisville had given him transportation to this city. The family was entirely destitute. It seems that Louisville is snipping away all its unemployed, but the officials of Indianapolis think it is a poor plan to try to foist them on another city.

Protesting Against Viaduct Changes. Father Donaghue and other South-side citizens appeared before the Board of Works yesterday and asked that the board refuse permission to the C., H. & D. Railroad Company to build a driveway off the viaduct. The board told the committee that the people would be notified before the board took any final action on the petition of the company.

Firemen's Fund Pension Board. The pension board of the firemen's fund will meet at the Board of Safety office this morning. The board will consider the matter of returning to the insurance companies the amounts which they paid under protest. The Supreme Court has held that the companies cannot be compelled to pay this tribute to the pension fund.

The Mayor and the New Bonds. The Mayor has signed the ordinance authorizing the refunding of the $600,000 series bonds. He will sign the new bonds in New York when they are issued, and will bring back the old bonds with him.

Street Commissioner's Bills. The street commissioner's bills, approved yesterday for the last week, were as follows: Foremen street repairs, $216.93; bridge gang, $121.95; sewer gang, $54.30.

CAUGHT MEN WITH RECORDS.

tive Grady's Work.

One Held Up Three Policemen-Detec-

Detective Grady, of the Big Four Railroad Company, and W. H. Owen, chief of police of Paris, Ill., brought two prisoners to Indianapolis last night, both of whom are charged with wholesale stealing from the railroad company. The men are John Ray and Albert Scott. They were arrested at Paris yesterday morning by Chief Owen's men on information from the railroad officials here. Albert Scott carries in his cheek an ugly bullet wound. His face was disfiguered a month ago by Joe Dickey, the husband of Florence Dickey, a Chesapeake-street woman. Ray was also recognized around police headquarters as a man with a bad reputation. The officers claim that he has served ten years of his life behind prison walls, a portion of which was in Sing Sing penitentiary. To several of the officers Ray is well known. Eight years ago he won the dis-tinction of "holding up" three police offizers, each of whom he compelled to throw ap their hands at the point of a pistol. The incident was recalled yesterday when the prisoner was brought in. Police Captain Quigley eight years ago wore a sergeant's straps. Officer William Hoefgen, yet on the force, and patrolman Shaughnessy were both new in police work. One very cold night Sergeant Quigley, with Hoefgen and Shaughnessy, were scouting over the district in search of burglars. A grocery store at Michigan and Noble streets had been broken into and the officers stood on the opposite corner watching for the thieves. Each man wore his coat buttoned to the chin and wore heavy gloves. Revolvers and clubs were beneath the coats, and impossible to get out on short notice. While the three officials stood waiting for burglars John Ray and two companions appeared around the corner. Sergeant Quigley knew the men to be of uncertain reputation and ordered a halt. Ray stopped and Quigley said to his men: "Search these fellows for guns." As the patrolmen stepped forward Ray exclaimed:

"Yes, we have got guns, and you fellows throw up your hands." As he spoke he drew a pistol and leveled it at the astonished policemen. The hands went up. The officers were unable to get out their weapmarch "hands up" in the direction of the station. Ray, with a chuckle and a parting taunt, joined his companions and left the locality. The Sergeant and his men returned later, but failed to find the bold highwaymen. That morning the reports handed in to the chief did not contain an account of the interview, and the story did not leak out until nearly a year later. Ray and Scott, it is claimed, have been regularly breaking into Big Four cars and have carried off goods in large quantities, which they sold to a dealer on West Washington street. Yesterday evening detective Grady went to Ray's house and found a half-filled cask of brandy, besides other articles of value. The prisoner's wife made no attempt to conceal her husband's operdons in the burgiary line.

Dispute Between the Belt Road and Kingans in the Courts.

Premier Steel Company's Bonds-Cases Before the Criminal Judge-Court Miscellany.

The firm of Butler, Snow & Butler, appearing as solicitors for the Belt Railroad Company, yesterday afternoon, filed a bill in the federal court against Kingan & Co., to enforce the specific performance of a contract, for injunction and damages for failure to comply with the terms of the contract alleged to have been disregarded. The bill is very lengthy and sets up a contract entered into between Kingan & Co. and the railroad company in 1877. By the provisions of this contract the packing company obligated themselves to ship to the stockyards in this city all consignments of hogs purchased by them outside of Indianapolis. The terms of the contract were lived up to except during the past year, during which time, it is alleged, Kingan & Co. have failed to comply with it. The railroad company asks for a specific performance of the contract set out and that the packing company be enjoined from further violations of their agreement. They also ask judgment for damages in the sum of $6,000, which amount they claim to have lost by reason of the failure of the packing company to keep their obligations. The suit is a friendly one to test the binding force of the contract set up.

PREMIER BONDS.

A Dispute as to the Ownership of $200,000 Worth of Bonds. The ownership of $200,000 worth of bonds of the Premier Steel Company is now in controversy. The bonds in dispute are a part of the $300,000 in bonds which were issued by the company in 1891, of which $100,000 were purchased by J. J. Southwell, of Chicago, and the whole issue indorsed by the American Trust and Savings Bank, of that city. W. V. Martin, a clerk in the office of the Premier company, says that four days before the application for a receiver was made he took possession of the bonds upon a written order from C. W. DePauw, and two hours before the application was made he delivered them to Cashier Bosson, of the Bank of Commerce. Bosson says he no longer has possession of them, but that they are in possession of the Union Trust Company, assignee of Charles W. DePauw. It is contended that the bonds are the personal property of Mr. DePauw.

CRIMINAL COURT CASES.

Mamie Huey Sent to the Penitentiary -Patrick McInerny's Asailant.

In the Criminal Court yesterday Mamie Huey was tried and convicted under an indictment for receiving stolen goods. She was arrested on Oct. 13 at Huntington's seed store while trying to sell ten bushels of clover seed. She had a short time before tried to sell the seed at Russe's seed store, where the suspicion of Russe was aroused and he sent her to Huntington and telephoned the police station in the meantime. After her arrest John H. Vilderbeck was also arrested for receiving stolen goods. The seed was identified by Thornton Davis, a farmer residing in Wayne township, by the sacks which contained it. Two brothers of Mamie Huey, who stole the seed from the granary on Davis's farm, were also indicted, but could not be found. They were afterwards arrested at Brazil and sent to the penitentiary for seven years for a like offense in Clay county. The girl was sent to the penitentiary for one year. Vilderbeck has not yet been tried. Frank Boyer was tried by the court for assault and battery with intent to kill Patrick McInerney, and convicted of simple assault and battery. Boyer was a boarder at McInerney's house, No. 359 South Illinois street, and was ordered from the house. He afterwards returned and struck McInerney on the head with a stone weighing several pounds.

THE SHOOTING PARK SUIT.

Thrown Out of Court and the Differences Amicably Adjusted. The suit of Frederick Mertz and others against Paul Krauss and others for injunction was dismissed in the Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon, by agreement among the parties. The suit was filed last summer and was the outgrowth of a dispute as to the continuance of target shooting at the Shooting Park. The plaintiffs first brought suit for a mandatory injunction to require the defendants to replace targets removed from the park and to enjoin them from further interference with the target practice. A temporary restraining order was issued and afterwards dissolved. Other preliminary steps were taken in the Circuit Court and then overtures for a compromise were made and finally it was agreed to amend the articles of association, which was done, and all that part of the articles relating to target shooting was stricken out. Yesterday the case was dismissed by an agreement as to costs and a relinquishing by the plaintiffs of any claims against the defendants for damages growing out of the injunction. The association will reorganize on a basis satisfactory to Judge Baker's Ruling.

"If the decision of Judge Baker temporarily enjoining the collection of the $11,000 assessment on the Michigan Central Railroad Company's property in Hammond for street improvements is followed by a permanent injunction of similar purport," said a well-known attorney yesterday, "it is going to be far-reaching in its effects. It will cloud the title of property that has been so improved to the extent of making neces-sary the fullest examination of the proceeding under which such improvements were made. The sales of bonds will have to be watched with equal care to see that the law, as the Judge construes it, is absolutely complied with. The decision was a most important one, affecting, as it does, all character of proceedings in which such advertising is necessary. Attorneys recognize the importance of this ruling and are watching the case very closely. The final hearing of the arguments on the motion to enjoin perpetually will be awaited with far more than ordinary interest.

Mrs. Satterwhite Has Settled.

In the federal court, yesterday, Receiver Hawkins dismissed his suit against Mrs. Harriet E. Satterwhite, of Martinsville, to collect $2,000, the amount of stock she held in the Indianapolis National Bank. She has paid the amount over to the receiver and has settled the costs of the suit. Her husband has not yet paid his stock assessment.

Schulte Sues the Grand. Charles Schulte yesterday brought suit against the Grand Hotel for damages in the sum of $600. On the night of Oct. 19 last Schulte was a guest at the hotel, and during the night the occupant of an adjoining room slipped into the apartment occupied by Schulte and stole his watch and chain, valued at $350, and $180 in cash.

Klingensmith Fined. Alonzo Klingensmith was fined $10 and costs by Justice Daniels, yesterday, for assault and battery on Charles Stanley at the latter's home in West Indianapolis.

Klingensmith paid his fine and was re-

PENCHANT FOR THROWING BEANS. Queer Actions of an Unknown Individual at Wright's Grocery.

For two days Wright's grocery store, at No. 244 West Washington street, has been the scene of the operations of an eccentric man, whose name is unknown. Thursday afternoon he walked into the store and asked Mrs. Wright if she could not give him some work to do. She replied that she had nothing for him, and he requested the privilege of resting for a short time. He sat down on a box and remained a half hour without speaking. Then he suddenly jumped to his feet, caught a handful of beans and dashed them into the face of Mrs. Wright. The woman was alone and the queer customer escaped. Yesterday afternoon he returned to the store and made the same application for work. He was again told that there was nothing he could do, and again sat down to rest, as he said. Shortly afterward the boy who drives the delivery wagon came in, and the man served bim with a quart of beans, full in the face. From the gro-cery the man ran over to No. 134 West Market street, and entered the house without warning. Here he conducted himself in a manner very strange," but left before the police could be called. The erratic individual is unknown.

A committee of ladies of the Central Christian Church are preparing an entertainment to be given in their church Jan. 30. A programme of tableaux, music and readings is prepared. The church is well adapted for such an entertainment. A new club has been organized among the young people, and the first party will be given the last of this month at the residence of Miss Rowena New. The name of the club will be the German, the style of the dance to be given at each meeting. The german will follow a supper. The juniors of the Kindergarten Training School entertained the seniors yesterday afternoon at the Margaret-street school by giving a small reception and a banquet. At the latter there were toasts, and Miss Lillian Reeves acted as toast mistress. The subjects were: "The Training School and Society," which was responded to by Miss Ballenger; "Our Faculty," by Miss Green-leaf; "Our Children," by Miss Prentiss; "The Clay Crock," by Miss Maley, and "Our Graduate," by Miss Insley. Yesterday afternoon was one of the most interesting meetings of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Ovid Butler Jameson read a paper on the subject of "Theosophy," and the subject was discussed by the club, with Mrs. Joseph A. Milburn as the leader. Considerable feeling was aroused, and those who had anything to say said it very well indeed. There were many visitors from out of town, among them being a party from the Greenfield Woman's Club, which included Mrs. Eph Marsh and daughter, Miss Marsh, Mrs. A. J. Smith, Mrs. A. R. Brown, Mrs. Monts gomery, Mrs. I. P. Poulson and Miss Lulu Crawford, Mrs. Edward Walrath, lately returned from Africa, and others.

There was a very pleasant social given at the Meridian-street Church last evening. The ladies at the head of the section were Mrs. A. H. Blair, Mrs. H. P. Wasson, Mrs. Jacoby and Mrs. Henry Jameson. The room was prettily decorated with blue and stars and the several tables where refreshments were served were bright with gay colored shades and flowers. During the evening a short musical programme was given. Master Allie McCorkle played a mandolin solo and Mr. Johnson, a baritone, formerly of Chicago, sang a selection. Miss Eurice Jameson played a violin solo with much skill for so young a player, and with remarkably true tone quality. Miss Angela Maxwell assisted in each number given.

WILL DEMAND WORK

The Unemployed Resolve to Call In a Body on Public Officials.

Want the Commercial Club Encampment Money Used on Public Works-Words for Mr. Bynum.

Five hundred or more of the unemployed met in the Criminal Court room last night and resolved to call in a body on the Board of Works, the Mayor, County Commissioners and the Commercial Club this morning and demand work. At first it was decided to elect a "commander," instead of the usual chairman, but just as the meeting was about to close wiser counsel prevailed and it was determined to term the leader a "spokesman." A resolution was passed to also demand that the $17,000 in the possession of the Commercial Club, left over from the G. A. R. encampment, be used on Garfield Park and other public works in order to furnish the unemployed with labor. E. B. Cummings presided at the meeting. In short order was a resolution passed to call this morning at the City Hall, Nine o'clock was set as the hour and the courthouse basement chosen as the rendezvous. A negro who has appeared on one of the committees that visited the Mayor and Board of Works said that he was tired of following committees, and now he had a job. The committee wanted him to act as chairman of the gathering to-day. A committee was appointed to visit the council chamber and ascertain if the Council was in session. It was intended to make a demand on the Council for work, but as the Council was not in session this movement was frustrated. Stephen Cherman was chosen as "commander," but his title was afterward, as stated above, changed to "spokesman." Then it was proposed to have a committee of five visit the public offices to-day, but a motion to this effect was voted down.

James Deery informed the meeting that the School Board had opened bids for erecting the Manual Training School, and had found a difference of $70 between the bids of a home firm and an outsider. He wanted a resolution adopted expressing the sentiment of the meeting that the School Board give the home firm the contract, and ome labor be employed on the building. This resolution was incorporated with the other demands that the unemployed are to make to-day. It was also decided to demand that the city authorities employ only home labor. A drunken man created some little confusion during the meeting, but he was hissed down. C. A. Johnson was the man who offered the resolution demanding that the amount held by the Commercial Club from the encampment fund be used on public works. After this business the meeting was about to adjourn, but William Patterson slipped to the front with a volume of government reports wrapped up in newspapers. The him to make a harangue about the condition of national currency. A few of the leaders looked up at the clock, and not a few, anticipating one of Mr. Patterson's famous speeches, slipped out of the room, By and by Mr. Patterson shed his overcoat and a number were so disrespectful as to laugh, but this did not abash Mr. Patterson. He told the workingmen a great deal about currency, and he quoted figures sufficient to distract an expert accountant, all of which was, of course, appreciated by men who were looking for work and not for figures. He referred to "the lying newspapers," and brought his arms around two or three times in wind-mill fashion in order to properly emphasise this terrible anathema. He showed how Congressman Bynum had once been in favor of increasing the volume of the currency, but had since retreated from this stand. After the speaker retired Allen Jennings arose and told the crowd a few things about Mr. Bynum's record. Mr. Bynum, he said, when he first entered Congress, was almost an inflationist, but when it came time to vote for increasing the currency Mr. Bynum had flunked. He said it was time to turn traitors out of Congress, and for this statement he was cheered in a manner that would have greatly discomfited the grass burner had he been present. The chairman informed the meeting of a suit brought to enforce the natural-gas ordinance, and he gave it as his opinion that the workingmen would ultimately be successful in bringing the companies back to compliance with the ordinance. The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the same place next Monday night.

COURT-MARTIAL REUNION.

Organization of the First Division, Seventeenth Corps, Meets.

The survivors of the First Division, Seventeenth Army Corps court-martial, held at Lagrange, Tenn., over three months in 1863, held its second reunion at the Denison House yesterday. It was composed of the following officers, nearly all of whom were present: Col. D. W. C. Louden, Georgetown, O.; Col. R. M. Johnson, Elkhart, Ind.; Major Patrick Flynn, Rockford, Ill.; Col. J. W. Headington, Portland, Ind.; Capt. R. A. Starkey, Springfield, O.; Capt. S. M. Boughter, Benton Harbor, Mich.; Capt. J. J. Smiley, Greencastle, Ind.; Capt. J. G. Adams, Michigan; Capt. C. K. Crumit, Jackson, O.; Capt. E. B. Woodward, Atlanta, Ga., and Capt. J. B. Conner, Indianapolis, Ind. The court-martial was composed of thirteen members, and it was learned that the other two members, Capt. I. N. Alexander, Van Wert, O., and Capt. Patrick O'Mera, of Illinois, were dead. Members were present who had not met for thirty years, but readily recognized each other. The average age of all present was a fraction over sixty-one years Colonel Louden, of Ohlo, was re-elected president of the body, and John B. Conner, of Indianapolis, secretary and treasurer. Col. I. N. Walker and Captain Smock, of this city, of the Grand Army, were present and greeted their old comrades. It was one of the most enjoyable reunions ever held in this city. These reunions are fixed to be held on the 19th day of January each year, that being the date upon which the court-martial first met in 1863. Yesterday all the members exchanged photographs, and agreed to bring their wives and daughters to the next reunion, to be held at the Denison House, this city, Jan. 19. 1895. Before adjourning the members all joined in a strong recommendation to President Cleveland for the appointment of one of their number, Col. Ruel M. Johnson, of Elkhart, Ind., to the consul-generalship of Berlin, and ordered the same to be forwarded to the Secretary of State at Wash-

EASY REACH.

When a person finds a jewel of great value he always desires to tell his good fortune.

So it is with Mr. Norman S. McLean, of 65 High street, Norfolk, Va., whose good fortune prompts him to give for publication the following interesting facts:

"For some time," he said, "I had been suffering from nervous and physical exhaustion. I felt weak and nervous and was tired all the time. I had trouble with my bowels and pains back of shoulders. I passed sleepless nights and when I would get up in the morning I would feel so tired that I had not energy enough to go anywhere or to do anything.

"While looking over the newspaper, the Norfolk Virginian, I saw the photograph of a young man and a letter he had written telling what great good Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy had done

"Well, I immediately got a bottle of this remedy and here is what it has done for "You have seen a swimmer make a headlong dive into the water and come quickly up, buoyed up by the water. Now, this wonderful medicine acted on me like the water on the swimmer-it buoyed me right up, and very quickly at that.

"Now, whenever I lie down I can go right to sleep. Where before I looked white as any sheet and weighed only 135 pounds, now I weigh 160 pounds and my face and complexion are natural and healthy.

"My nervousness is all gone and the pains back of shoulder blades, spots before my eyes and that tired feeling have left me. My bowels are all right, do not have cold feet any more, nor any more hard beating around my heart, nor do I have to stop to rest while going to work. "In fact I am well since taking Dr.

Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and am stronger than ever, and I can do more work than I ever could before, and I am enjoying better health than ever before in my life. "So you see how fast and quick it acted on me, and at least twenty other people have told me how badly they felt and how this medicine has made them as strong and full of life as ever. It is the remedy to cure, every time." Mr. McLean is right. Dr. Greene's Ner-vura blood and nerve remedy is the greatest and most certain cure for disease known in the world to-day. By its use he found the most priceless of jewels-health; and by its use you also can regain your health and strength.

It is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery and prescription of the eminent physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic complaints. The doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter

$600,000 REFUNDING BONDS OF THE CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS. Department of Finance, Office of City Controller, Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19, 1894. Sealed bids will be received by the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, through the City

Controller, until February 15, 1894, at 12 o'clock m., for the whole or any part of $600,000 Refunding Bonds of said city. Said bonds will be designated "Indianapolis Refunding Bonds of 1894," will be dated March 1, 1894, and will be in denomination of $1,000 each, with coupons attached; will draw interest at the rate of four per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually, on the 1st of July and January, the principal payable in thirty years, without option, and both principal and interest payable at the banking house of Winslow, Lanier & Co., New York. These bonds are to be issued and sold for the purpose of taking up certain outstanding bonds of said city which became due

July 1, 1893, i. the sum of $600,000. Bids for the purchase of said bonds should be indorsed, "Proposal for Refunding Bonds," and directed to the City Controller, Indianapolis, Indiana. Bidders may bid for all or any part of said bonds. The proposals will be opened by the City Controller, at his office, on the 15th day of February, 1894, between the hours of 12 o'clock m. and 2 o'clock p. m., and said Controller will thereupon award said bonds, or if he shall see fit, a part or any number thereof, to the highest and best bidder therefor, and shall have the right to accept a part of any bid, and to award upon any bid the whole or any less number of the bonds covered by such bid, he being the sole judge of the sufficiency or insufficiency of any bid; and he may in his discretion award a part of said bonds to one bidder, and a part to another, or he may reject

Each bid shall be accompanied with a duly certified check upon some responsible bank of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, payable to the order of Sterling R. Holt, City Treasurer, for a sum of money equal to five per cent, of the face or par value of the bonds bid for, which check and sum of money will be forfeited to the city, as agreed and liquidated damages, if bonds shall be awarded upon said bid and the purchaser shall fail to take up said bonds at the proper time, but all checks not so forfeited shall be returned to the party entitled thereto. The bonds awarded will be delivered at the banking house of Winslow, Lanler & Co., New York, March 1, 1894, and must be taken up and paid for on that day, but the date for taking up and paying for said bonds, so fixed, may be extended at the option of the Controller for a period of ten days following said date, and the purchaser shall take up and pay for the same at any time upon the request of the Controller within said ten days.

P. C. TRUSLER, City Controller. PRISON LABOR TO LET.

Notice is hereby given that, on the 9th day of February, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., the board of directors of the State prison at Michigan City, Ind., will let to the highest and best bidder the labor of three hundred convicts, or so many any bidder may desire, for a term not exceeding five years from the 20th day of February, 1894. All bids must be sealed and filed with the werden of said prison on or before the day and hour specified. The kind of labor proposed must be stated. The bids must be for so much for each able-bodied man per day, and must state the number of men desired. Successful bidders must file good and sufficient bonds according to law for faithful performance of such contracts. The board expressly reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Ample shop room and good discipline are guaranteed. For further particulars call on or address, J. W. FRENCH, Warden. Michigan City, Ind.
